

Call for Applications: AgriNext Incubator to Support Rural Entrepreneurship in Ireland

Do you have an innovative farm diversification business idea?
The AgriNext Incubator is now accepting applications!

The incubator hub (Farm Diversification Support Centre) is a core component of the EU-funded AgriNext Project, which promotes multifunctional agriculture (farm diversification) activities across Ireland, Spain, Croatia, and Slovenia.

Commencing in July 2025 at the Technological University of the Shannon, Thurles Campus, Ireland, will offer:

- Co-working spaces and demonstration facilities
- A structured training programme for farm diversification enterprises
- One-on-one mentorship from experts and educators
- Peer-to-peer learning and networking with stakeholders
- Opportunities to develop viable, sustainable agribusiness plans
- Support for creating partnerships between education, business, and farming communities
- Access to funding & expert networks

Who's it for?

Farmers | Students | Advisors | Teachers | Rural communities | Academia | Social enterprises

Apply through the LINK before the deadline, 27 June 2025.

Contact details: Sean O'Farrell (sean.ofarrell@tus.ie, 0879227957)